Earth & Sky

This body of work is a reflection of the relationship between the static and the shifting, between the known and unknown, between the solid and the transparent.

Using wood and steel the objects in this exhibition are formed to create a dialogue that mimics both nature and human behavior. I'm interested in how we engage facts, opinion, and dreams as a coherent means for understanding our purpose. The earth and the sky is an eternal relationship based on perspective and comprehension. This work is inspired by those things that may seem fixed, tenuous, or fleeting from the sensation of looking upward and outward.
